

Target Number

The teacher will determine the target number. Record it in the target for each number bond. Roll a dice to get a number. Write the number as one part of the number bond. Students need to find the missing addend that is needed to make the target number. Students can work individually in a center or they can work with a partner.

